Your Wedding Planner

rings & jewellery

Your wedding bands are likely to be most meaningful pieces of jewellery you'll ever own. Take time to research the various metals, stones and settings available before you make your final choice.

bride's wedding band

Jeweller
Contact
Address

Phone Mobile
Email
Website
Design

Metal/s for ring
Designed or readymade
Stones
Matching with groom's
Engraving
Date ordered
Jeweller's valuation
Insurance cover arranged
Insurance company
Collection date
TOTAL PRICE
Deposit date due
Balance date due

groom's wedding band

Jeweller
Contact
Address

Phone Mobile
Email
Website
Design
Metal/s for ring
Designed or readymade
Stones
Matching with bride's
Engraving
Date ordered
Jeweller's valuation
Insurance cover arranged
Insurance company
Collection date
TOTAL PRICE
Deposit date due
Balance date due

other jewellery

Bride
Necklace
From price
Bracelet
From price
Earrings
From price
Hair accessories
From price
Groom
Watch
From price
Tiepin
From price
Cufflinks
From price
Earring/s
From price

things to consider

- The bride's engagement ring and wedding band should be made of the same metal, as harder metals can wear down softer ones.
- Having your rings engraved with your initials or wedding date is a lovely personal touch.
- Consider a vintage or custom-made design if nothing appeals to you in a retail store.
- Have the brides's engagement ring cleaned prior to your wedding.

notes

© Bride & Groom magazine